

Nikolaj Riisager

MSc in Business Studies and Communication · graduate candidate

+45 24 19 73 52 | nikolaj.riisager@hotmail.com | Universitetsvej 1, 4000 Roskilde | linkedin.com/in/nikolajriisager

Profile

RUC master's student with an interdisciplinary background combining communication, organisational theory and digital change. I value RUC's emphasis on real-world problem orientation and have applied this in projects with both private companies and public-sector clients. I am drawn to consulting because it requires the ability to navigate ambiguity, integrate perspectives, and translate insight into action.

Education

RUC

MSc in Business Studies and Communication

2024-2026

GPA: 9.5

RUC

Bachelor in Social Sciences

2020-2023

GPA: 8.9

Exchange semester at Sciences Po Paris (Spring 2022)

Experience

Student Consultant, People & Culture · PFA Pension, Copenhagen

Part-time · Mar 2024 – Present

- Co-designed an internal communication strategy for a major restructuring
- Facilitated three workshops with leadership teams across business units
- Developed a survey-based pulse instrument later adopted across PFA

Student Tutor · Roskilde University, Roskilde

Part-time · Sep 2022 – Jun 2023

- Tutored first-year students in research methods and project work

Volunteer Coordinator · Roskilde Festival, Roskilde

Project · Jun 2021 – Jul 2023

- Coordinated 30+ volunteers across two festival editions

Volunteer

Volunteer, Roskilde Festival · Jun 2018 – Present

Volunteer coordinator and floor manager.

Skills

Technical

NVivo, Excel, Power BI, Survey Monkey, Mentimeter, Miro

Professional

Workshop facilitation, Qualitative research, Internal communication, Project orientation

Languages

Danish (native), English (fluent), French (working)

Master's Thesis

Sense-making in Digital Transformation: A Narrative Analysis of Middle Manager Accounts