

Richard Scott

Dear Recruitment Team,

I am writing to apply for the Management Consulting Analyst - Graduate Position at Accenture Strategy & Consulting. With a background in IT operations, service delivery, program management, and process governance, I am highly motivated by the opportunity to apply my technology and business experience in a consulting environment that focuses on solving complex client challenges and driving implementation at scale.

Accenture stands out to me because of its ability to combine strategic thinking with practical execution. This is exactly the kind of environment I am looking for. In my professional experience, I have worked with IT service delivery, SLA management, asset governance, project transitions, information security, stakeholder alignment, and team leadership. These responsibilities have required me to manage both operational detail and broader business priorities, while ensuring that delivery remains structured, reliable, and aligned with organizational objectives.

I have particularly enjoyed working on assignments where technology must be translated into business value. Whether supporting service operations, managing cross-functional teams, or driving process improvements, I have learned that successful outcomes depend on more than technical knowledge alone. They also require clear communication, sound judgment, and the ability to build trust across stakeholders. I believe this perspective would be valuable in consulting projects where clients need both insight and practical support in implementing change.

My background has also given me a strong appreciation for fast-paced and collaborative work. I have led and supported teams, worked with clients to understand needs, and contributed to initiatives involving governance, operational performance, and transformation. I am drawn to consulting because it offers the opportunity to work across industries, take on varied challenges, and keep learning while delivering tangible results.

If I were to state a preference, I would be especially interested in Supply Chain & Operations and Talent & Organization. My experience in service delivery, people management, governance, and operational improvement aligns well with these areas, particularly where organizations need to strengthen processes, improve execution, and support change. At the same time, I would welcome exposure across Accenture Consulting and would be excited to contribute wherever my profile is most relevant.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background in IT operations, delivery management, and business-facing transformation can contribute to Accenture as a Management Consulting Analyst.

Kind regards,
Richard Scott
