

Andrew Keith

Dear Recruitment Team,

I am excited to apply for the Management Consulting Analyst - Graduate Position at Accenture Strategy & Consulting. With a background in software development, enterprise applications, and technology delivery, I am motivated by the opportunity to move into consulting and contribute to projects where business needs and technical solutions must come together in a structured and practical way.

Accenture particularly appeals to me because of its strong focus on technology-driven business transformation. In my experience as a Java and ADF developer, I have worked on enterprise systems, application migration, front-end and back-end development, reporting solutions, and business-critical modules across multiple projects. These experiences have strengthened my ability to understand technical complexity, work systematically with requirements, and contribute to the successful delivery of solutions that support broader organizational goals.

Over time, I have become increasingly interested in the business context around the systems I help build. I enjoy solving technical problems, but I am especially motivated when I can understand the operational challenge behind them and help shape solutions that are useful, scalable, and aligned with stakeholder needs. This is one of the reasons I see management consulting as a compelling next step. The role offers the opportunity to apply analytical thinking and technology understanding in a broader setting, while also developing further in communication, problem-solving, and client collaboration.

I believe I would bring a structured and adaptable mindset to Accenture. My development background has taught me the importance of precision, follow-through, and collaboration across teams. I am comfortable learning new tools and working in dynamic environments, and I value opportunities where technical insight can be translated into business impact. I am also motivated by the chance to contribute to presentations, analyses, workshops, and implementation work as part of broader project teams.

If I were to state a preference, I would be especially interested in Supply Chain & Operations and Health & Public Services, as I am interested in transformation work where large systems, process improvement, and stakeholder coordination are central. At the same time, I would welcome the opportunity to contribute across Accenture Consulting and continue building my understanding of how different industries use technology to drive change.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my development background, consulting motivation, and interest in business transformation align with the Management Consulting Analyst role at Accenture.

Kind regards,
Andrew Keith
