

Ruth Stephanie

Dear Hiring Team,

I am writing to apply for the Management Consulting Analyst graduate position at Accenture Strategy & Consulting. As an international business student with a background that combines customer-facing work, sales exposure, and multicultural experience, I am very motivated by the opportunity to begin my career in consulting and contribute to projects where business insight, communication, and curiosity are essential.

Through my studies and part-time roles, I have developed a strong interest in how businesses create value, engage customers, and improve their ways of working. My experience in customer-facing environments has taught me how to listen carefully, adapt quickly, and communicate effectively with different people. In parallel, my academic background in international business has strengthened my understanding of markets, business development, and the importance of combining commercial thinking with structured analysis.

I am particularly drawn to Accenture because it offers the chance to work with both business and technology in a collaborative and fast-moving environment. Based on my profile and interests, I would especially welcome consideration for Consumer Goods & Services, where market understanding, customer orientation, and transformation are closely connected. I would also be excited by opportunities to grow across the wider consulting organization.

I would be grateful for the opportunity to start my consulting career at Accenture and contribute with enthusiasm, adaptability, and a strong willingness to learn. Thank you for considering my application.

Yours sincerely,

Ruth Stephanie
