Accenture

Dear Hiring Team,

I am applying for the Industry / Functional Specialist Analyst role because I am motivated by work that combines structured analysis with strong sector context and commercial understanding.

In my current role within Financial Services Advisory at KPMG, I support analyses of regulatory developments, market themes, and strategic implications for financial institutions. Earlier, at Ørsted, I worked with green transition topics, stakeholder input, and policy-related analysis. Across both settings, I have enjoyed building insight that is grounded in domain knowledge and relevant for business decisions.

Academically, my studies in Finance and Strategic Management and Political Science have strengthened my interest in sector strategy, regulation, and value chain dynamics. I would be excited to contribute with a commercially aware, analytically structured, and context-driven approach.

I would welcome the opportunity to contribute with a Danish market perspective, strong communication skills in English, and a structured, collaborative approach.

Kind regards,

Ida Nørgaard
