Accenture Strategy & Consulting

Re: Application – Management Consulting Analyst (Graduate, September 2026)

Odense, 21 May 2026

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am delighted to apply for the Management Consulting Analyst position at Accenture Strategy & Consulting for the September 2026 intake. My master's degree in Supply Chain Management from SDU, combined with hands-on internship experience at Arla Foods and PwC Deals Advisory, has prepared me to work at the intersection of operational complexity and strategic decision-making – the space where I believe Accenture creates its greatest value for clients.

The internship at Arla Foods was the defining professional experience of my studies. Over six months, I was part of a small team conducting an end-to-end review of a pan-European logistics network. The project demanded rigorous analytical work – mapping complex material flows, building cost models, and identifying consolidation opportunities worth over DKK 18 million – but its success ultimately depended on the quality of the stakeholder relationships we built with plant directors, logistics managers, and commercial planners across eight countries. I left Arla with a deep appreciation for the importance of both quantitative precision and human-centred communication in consulting work.

My research focus on circular economy implementation in Danish FMCG supply chains reflects my broader belief that the most important strategic questions today lie at the boundary of operational efficiency and sustainability. Accenture's emphasis on tangible, real-world results for clients resonates strongly with my own professional values, and I am eager to contribute to engagements that help Nordic and European companies build supply chains that are both competitive and resilient.

I am specifically interested in Accenture's Supply Chain & Operations and Consumer Goods & Services practices, which align directly with my academic background and project experience. I am confident that my combination of operational expertise, structured analytical skills, and cross-cultural stakeholder experience will allow me to make meaningful contributions from the outset.

I am fully available to participate in the in-person bootcamp in Copenhagen in November 2025 and look forward to engaging with the case interview process. Thank you for considering my application.

Yours sincerely,

Nanna Christoffersen
