Accenture Strategy & Consulting

Re: Application – Management Consulting Analyst (Graduate, September 2026)

Aarhus, 21 May 2026

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Management Consulting Analyst position at Accenture Strategy & Consulting with a start date of September 2026. As an MSc Finance student at Aarhus University with experience spanning investment banking, health economics research, and corporate finance, I bring the analytical rigour, communication skills, and genuine intellectual curiosity that I believe Accenture looks for in its graduate cohort.

My academic path has been deliberately shaped around the interface between quantitative analysis and strategic impact. My thesis examines how ESG rating methodologies influence capital structure decisions among Nordic listed companies – a research question with direct implications for how financial services clients should think about sustainable financing strategies. The experience has sharpened my ability to synthesise large volumes of data into concise, decision-relevant insights.

At Nordea Markets, I was part of a team executing live equity capital markets transactions, including a DKK 2.1 billion IPO for a Danish healthcare company. The environment demanded precision, speed, and the ability to present complex financial analysis clearly under time pressure – skills I recognise as equally critical in consulting. In parallel, my research role at Aarhus University Hospital gave me direct exposure to public sector decision-making and the challenge of translating technical health economics findings into actionable policy recommendations.

I am particularly interested in Accenture's Financial Services and Health & Public Services practices, both of which align directly with my professional experience and academic interests. I see significant opportunity in helping Nordic financial institutions navigate regulatory complexity and digital disruption, and in supporting healthcare organisations in making better use of data to improve both outcomes and efficiency.

I am available to attend the in-person bootcamp in Copenhagen in November 2025 and would relish the opportunity to demonstrate my problem-solving and communication capabilities. I am excited by the prospect of joining Accenture's graduate cohort and contributing to meaningful client outcomes from day one.

Yours sincerely,

Sofie Lindqvist
